Economic Update

- Market volatility has intensified as financial conditions tighten and global central banks pursue monetary policies to combat persistently high inflation and maintain financial market stability. Labor markets and consumer balance sheets remain strong; however, inflation is weighing heavily on consumer sentiment and beginning to impact discretionary spending. Corporate earnings have generally performed better than expected, but warnings are growing along with wider credit spreads. While evidence of slower economic conditions has begun to mount, we expect the Federal Reserve to continue to raise rates until a sustainable improvement in inflationary conditions has been achieved. Over the near-term, we expect financial market volatility to remain intensified and conditions tighter with persistent inflation, geopolitical risk, and the Fed's hawkish monetary policy.
- At the September meeting, the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) delivered the third 75-basis point increase to the Fed Funds Rate, increasing the range to 3.00% to 3.25%. The FOMC acknowledged spending and production are experiencing modest growth, offset by a robust labor market and elevated inflation metrics. We expect the Fed to continue to increase the federal funds rate in the near term until inflationary pressures weaken.
- In September, yields rose significantly across the curve. The 2-year Treasury yield increased 79 basis points to 4.28%, the 5-year Treasury yield rose 74 basis points to 4.09%, and the 10-year Treasury yield gained 64 basis points to 3.83%. The spread between the 2-year Treasury yield and 10-year Treasury yield became more inverted at -45 basis points at September month-end versus -30 basis points at August month-end. The spread was a positive 121 basis points one year ago. The spread between 3-month and 10-year treasuries widened to 56 basis points in September compared to just 27 basis points in August. The shape of the curve does not necessarily indicate an imminent recession but bears watching as a better predictor of recession over the medium-term.

Employment

The U.S. economy added 263,000 jobs in September, surpassing market expectations of 255,000, and gains were revised upward by 11,000 for the prior two months. Trends in employment remain strong, with the three-month moving average payrolls at 372,000 and the six-month moving average at 360,000. Hiring was widespread, with solid increases in education and health services, leisure and hospitality, and professional and business services. The unemployment rate fell to 3.5% from 3.7%, as the labor participation rate edged down to 62.3% in September from 62.4% in August. The U-6 underemployment rate, which includes those who are marginally attached to the labor force and employed part time for economic reasons dropped to 6.7% from 7.0% last month. Average hourly earnings rose 5.0% year-over-year in September compared to 5.2% year-over-year in August, a constructive development for the inflation outlook. The strong September labor report bolsters the case for the Fed to continue raising the federal funds rate.

Inflation

The Consumer Price Index (CPI) increased more than expected in August, with broad-based gains led by shelter and food. Headline CPI increased 8.3% year-over-year in August, versus expectations for an 8.1% increase, and down from an 8.5% year-over-year gain in July. Core CPI (CPI less food and energy) rose 6.3% year-over-year in August, up from a 5.9% year-over-year gain in July. The annual increase of rent and owner's equivalent rent of 6.7% and 6.3%, respectively were the largest annual increases since 1986. The Personal Consumption Expenditures (PCE) index rose 6.2% in August, higher than consensus estimates of up 6.0%, but down from a 6.4% increase last month. Core PCE was up 4.9% year-over-year in August, versus up 4.7% year-over-year in July. Persistently elevated inflation is likely to keep the Federal Reserve on the path of tightening monetary policy as long as it continues to run well above the Fed's longer-run target of around 2.0%.

According to the third estimate, U.S. GDP was unrevised at -0.6% annualized in the second quarter. Personal consumption expenditures rose, primarily due to spending on services. The largest negative contribution was from a drop in gross residential investment as the housing sector diminished sharply. The second quarter decline followed a first quarter contraction of -1.6%. Although many market participants link two quarters in a row of negative GDP growth with a recession, an official declaration by the National Bureau of Economic Research is unlikely given the mosaic of data and the strength of the labor market. The consensus estimate calls for 1.5% growth in the third quarter and 1.6% growth for the full year 2022.

Information contained herein is confidential. Prices are provided by ICE Data Services Inc ("IDS"), an independent pricing source. In the event IDS does not provide a price or if the price provided is not reflective of fair market value, Chandler will obtain pricing from an alternative approved third party pricing source in accordance with our written valuation policy and procedures. Our valuation procedures are also disclosed in Item 5 of our Form ADV Part 2A.

Performance results are presented gross-of-advisory fees and represent the client's Total Return. The deduction of advisory fees lowers performance results. These results include the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings. Past performance may not be indicative of future results. Therefore, clients should not assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable or equal to past performance levels. All investment strategies have the potential for profit or loss. Economic factors, market conditions or changes in investment strategies, contributions or withdrawals may materially alter the performance and results of your portfolio.

Index returns assume reinvestment of all distributions. Historical performance results for investment indexes generally do not reflect the deduction of transaction and/or custodial charges or the deduction of an investment management fee, the incurrence of which would have the effect of decreasing historical performance results. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Fixed income investments are subject to interest, credit and market risk. Interest rate risk: the value of fixed income investments will decline as interest rates rise. Credit risk: the possibility that the borrower may not be able to repay interest and principal. Low rated bonds generally have to pay higher interest rates to attract investors willing to take on greater risk. Market risk: the bond market in general could decline due to economic conditions, especially during periods of rising interest rates.

Ratings information have been provided by Moody's, S&P and Fitch through data feeds we believe to be reliable as of the date of this statement, however we cannot guarantee its accuracy.

Security level ratings for U.S. Agency issued mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") reflect the issuer rating because the securities themselves are not rated. The issuing U.S. Agency guarantees the full and timely payment of both principal and interest and carries a AA+/Aaa/AAA by S&P, Moody's and Fitch respectively.

Total Pension Portfolio

As of the first quarter ending September 30, 2022, the total pension portfolio amounts to $22.0 million as compared to $23.0 million for the fourth quarter ending June 30, 2022. The pension portfolio return for the first quarter ending September 30, 2022 was -4.80%.
