Section 1 | Economic Update

Economic Update

- Economic trends have been decelerating along with tighter financial conditions and restrictive monetary policy. Recent data suggests positive but below trend growth this year. Although the pace of job growth is moderating, labor markets remain solid, and the U.S. consumer has demonstrated resiliency. Market participants and the Federal Reserve are maintaining very divergent views regarding the future trajectory of monetary policy. Given the cumulative effects of tighter monetary policy and stress in the banking sector, we believe the Federal Reserve is likely near a pause in their rate hiking campaign. If moderate growth continues, we believe the Fed will likely maintain the Federal Funds rate in restrictive territory until inflationary pressures subside.
- At the March meeting, the Federal Open Market Committee voted unanimously to raise the target federal funds rate by 0.25% to a range of 4.75 – 5.00%. Fed Chair Powell reiterated the committee’s focus on bringing down inflation to their 2% target; however, the committee softened language about "ongoing increases" in rates in the prior statement to "some additional policy firming may be appropriate". The statement also emphasized that the U.S. banking system is “sound and resilient” and acknowledged the tightening of financial conditions. The Chandler team believes the FOMC is likely near a pause in their rate hiking cycle.
- In March, the yield curve inversion narrowed. The 2-year Treasury yield plummeted 79 basis points to 4.03%, the 5-year Treasury yield plunged 61 basis points to 3.58%, and the 10-year Treasury yield fell 45 basis points to 3.47%. The inversion between the 2-year Treasury yield and 10-year Treasury yield declined to -56 basis points at March month-end versus -90 basis points at February month-end. There was no spread between the 2-year Treasury and 10-year Treasury yield one year ago – the yields were approximately equal. The inversion between 3-month and 10-year Treasuries widened to -128 in March from -89 basis points in February. The shape of the yield curve indicates that the probability of recession is increasing.

Employment

Source: US Department of Labor

The U.S. economy added 236,000 jobs in March, and the prior two months were revised downward by 17,000. Although the pace of job growth is moderating, employment remains strong, with the three-month moving average payrolls at 345,000 and the six-month moving average at 315,000. The private sector reported broad gains, led by leisure and hospitality. The unemployment rate fell to 3.5% due to a sharp rise in the number of people employed, and the participation rate increased to 62.6% from 62.5% in February. The U-6 underemployment rate, which includes those who are marginally attached to the labor force and employed part time for economic reasons, declined to 6.7% from the prior month at 6.8%. Average hourly earnings rose 4.2% year-over-year in March, down from a 4.6% increase in February. Job Openings dipped to 9.9 million, the first drop below 10 million since May of 2021. While the overall pace of hiring is slowing, levels remain consistent with a solid labor market.

Inflation

Consumer Price Index (CPI)

Personal Consumption Expenditures (PCE)

The Consumer Price Index (CPI) increased in March 0.1% month-over-month and 5.0% year-over-year, down from 6.0% in February. The Core CPI, which excludes volatile food and energy components, rose 0.4% month-over-month and 5.6% year-over-year, accelerating from 5.5% in February. Housing remained the largest factor in headline CPI representing 60% of the increase. The Personal Consumption Expenditures (PCE) index rose 5.0% year-over-year in February, improving from a 5.3% year-over-year gain in January. Core PCE, the Federal Reserve’s preferred inflation gauge, increased 4.6% year-over-year in February, the smallest increase since October 2021. Inflationary trends are declining but remain above the Fed's 2% target.

Gross Domestic Product (GDP)

According to the third estimate, fourth quarter 2022 GDP growth was revised downward to 2.6% from 2.7%. The revision lower was primarily due to weaker growth in personal consumption expenditures and a wider trade gap in net exports. The consensus estimate calls for 1.6% growth in the first quarter and 1.0% growth for the full year 2023.

Yield Curves

As of March 31, 2023

December 31, 2022 and March 31, 2023

Term	12/31/2022	03/31/2023
3 Month	4.37%	4.75%

5 Year	4.01%	3.58%
10 Year	3.88%	3.47%
30 Year	3.97%	3.65%

The yield curve remains inverted, and yields fell across the curve in March. Bond yields still remain above year ago levels. The 2-year Treasury yield was 169 basis points higher, and the 10-Year Treasury yield was about 113 basis points higher, year-over-year. The yield curve inversion eased in March, as the spread between the 2-year Treasury yield and 10-year Treasury yield narrowed to -56 basis points at March month-end versus -90 basis points at February month-end. The yield spread between 2-year Treasury yield and 10-year Treasury yield remains well below the average spread since 2003 of around +125 basis points. The shape of the yield curve is one indicator that suggests the probability of recession is increasing.

Performance results are presented gross-of-advisory fees and represent the client's Total Return. The deduction of advisory fees lowers performance results. These results include the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings. Past performance may not be indicative of future results. Therefore, clients should not assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable or equal to past performance levels. All investment strategies have the potential for profit or loss. Economic factors, market conditions or changes in investment strategies, contributions or withdrawals may materially alter the performance and results of your portfolio.

Index returns assume reinvestment of all distributions. Historical performance results for investment indexes generally do not reflect the deduction of transaction and/or custodial charges or the deduction of an investment management fee, the incurrence of which would have the effect of decreasing historical performance results. Fixed income investments are subject to interest, credit and market risk. Interest rate risk: the value of fixed income investments will decline as interest rates rise. Credit risk: the possibility that the borrower may not be able to repay interest and principal. Low rated bonds generally have to pay higher interest rates to attract investors willing to take on greater risk. Market risk: the bond market in general could decline due to economic conditions, especially during periods of rising interest rates.

Ratings information have been provided by Moody's, S&P and Fitch through data feeds we believe to be reliable as of the date of this statement, however we cannot guarantee its accuracy.

Security level ratings for U.S. Agency issued mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") reflect the issuer rating because the securities themselves are not rated. The issuing U.S. Agency guarantees the full and timely payment of both principal and interest and carries a AA+/Aaa/AAA by S&P, Moody's and Fitch respectively.

As of the third quarter ending March 31, 2023, the total pension portfolio amounts to $24.1 million as compared to $23.7 million for the second quarter ending December 31, 2022. The pension portfolio return for the third quarter ending March 31, 2023 was 4.36%.
